

On my journey to self-discovery, I found my passion for art and design flourished. Yes, it was always there, even when I was a little girl, countless hours sitting in my room painting simple landscapes, creating, and sewing my own clothes and bags, making jewelry, and just tinkering away in my own world.

Art has always been my sweet escape from the harsh reality of the world. I find that I can simplify experiences, emotions, and the deep sadness that I had felt; I could make it all make sense in my art.

As I dive deep into the colors of a painting, or the lines in a drawing it brought me a glimmer of joy during a dark time in my life.

Now I am here to share my simplified emotions through the many mediums that I find passion in. I am so happy to share these works that I have poured myself into.

What can I offer you?

A passionate illustrator and graphic designer, well versed in a variety of mediums including digital and traditional styles. I am an award-winning illustrator with great storytelling skills. I utilize a positive and focused attitude to solve complex problems for my clients. I find myself growing with every project I work on.
